We are an online marketplace that connects people who want to rent out their homes with people looking for accommodation in that locale. We cover over 191 countries. We do not provide the shelter; our participants which we call 'hosts' are responsible for that - and for those seeking to earn some income from their property, this is a great solution. (Find out if you meet our eligibility criteria for becoming a 'host').

Due to our literal omnipresence and longevity, we are familiar with property laws as they pertain to each and every country. We largely mitigate risks by requiring and reviewing special permits and necessary licenses from hosts to ensure guests feel, and truly are safe. We also carry out investigative methods to ensure listings are close to reality and we serve a penalty to deceitful hosts.

We do what is necessary which is why we are industry leaders, and yes, feel free to learn more details.

ABOUT US

Airbnb takes a unique approach toward lodging. Part of the "sharing economy," Airbnb offers you someone's home as a place to stay instead of a hotel. On Airbnb, you can find places to crash on your backpacking trip through Europe, or you can find a place to stay for a month during your internship in Los Angeles. Also, if you want to rent out extra space in your own home, you can host through Airbnb and make money for allowing a guest to stay.
